

Unilever has opened the first of two modern logistics facilities in South Africa, according to local press reports. The 45,000 sqm distribution centre is located at Ndlovu Park in Pietermaritzburg, KwaZulu-Natal and will manage distribution of Unilever's food, household and personal care products in KwaZulu-Natal and adjacent regions.

Unilever have retained Logistics Experts, LPC International and will work with DHL managing the warehouse at an operational level and Barloworld Logistics running the transport planning platform.